A New and Popular Move

Students of this division will remember that sometime ago Dean Burgess spoke to them in a general way about the necessity of cooperation of the student body with the faculty in securing conditions most favorable for good school work, and hinted that something more might be heard of the matter later. A plan has been matured and is now presented for operation. Its main features are as follows: the students are to elect six tribunes —a young man and a young lady from each of the divisions of the Institute. The times and method of election is the same as now used in Athletic Board elections.

The tribunes, the Deans and the Director form a Council to discuss questions of general school interest, especially those affecting order, care of building, etc. The Council may make recommendations to the faculty, if it sees fit.

Each tribune is the representative of his division. The division, or any mem- of it, may bring any matter to the attention of the Dean or Council through him.

The question of how best to secure the assistance of the student body in matters which are of common interest, is one much discussed just now all over the country. The students appreciate the fact that the faculty at Bradley has always had complete confidence in them. The present plan is only another evidence of this. Anything of this kind can succeed only through hearty co-operation. The TECH wishes it success.

Arts and Crafts Club

The Club held a Wm. Morris meeting Friday, May 18th. The program consisted of selections from the writings of Wm. Morris, and papers on his life and work.

On Monday, May 14, the date set for entering posters in the Poster Contest, six contestants entered as many posters, showing considerable skill and a great variety in design.

Mr. Wm. J. Koch was the designer who received first prize, a book, "Little Journeys to the Homes of Eminent Painters." by Elbert Hubbard. The prize poster was a blue print. The figure is of a woman in a sitting position, holding a vase upon her knee at arms-length. She seems to he pleased by the form of the vase and its design. The figure is placed in a rectangular space above, and to the left of which is placed the lettering. The figure and lettering combine to form a poster which easily merits the honor and prize given by the Club. Two other posters received honorable mention for their designers, Miss Julia Bourland and Mr. Victor J. West.

The spring exhibition of the Club was held last week, Monday, May 28, to June 1. Work was exhibited in each of the five classes: Metalwork, Woodwork, Needlework, Jewelry, including engraving and pictures. Medals were awarded in each class to the person showing the most originality and perfection in execution. Honorable mention was also given. The exhibition was held in Room 2, and was open the hour preceding chapel, the hour following chapel, and from 3:30 to 5:30 in the afternoon.

Our Graduates

Bickity, Backity
Bought, Bought, Bought
Rickity, Rackity
Wrought, Wrought, Wrought.
We're the Class of Naughty Naught.

Thus do the staid seniors startle the still night air and make Rome howl. They have organized at the eleventh hour, and if any apologies are necessary for the yell given above, it is because the Seniors have galloped through school so fast that they had no time to note what a school yell should sound like! The seniors are all right, bless them, and the TECH believes that the class is a credit to Bradley Institute. The tardy organization of the Seniors has been effected with the following officers: President, Miss Mary Rice; Vice-President, John R. Dexter; Secretary, Miss Eva Sanner; Treasurer, Clarence E. Leffingwell; Class colors will no doubt be selected before convocation. The Senior class is composed of six boys and five girls, as follows: Messrs. C. C. Leffingwell, Carl Nelson, Ralph Smith, Roy Page, John R. Dexter; Misses Eva Sanner, Marguerite Crofoot, Marguerite Parker, Pearl Hood, Mary Rice.

Concert

Bradley students may congratulate themselves on having two of the finest musical organizations in the city. The annual concert, given May 18th by the Bradley Chorus and the Bradley Symphony Orchestra, ably demonstrated to Peorians our ability in music.

In spite of bad weather, a very large audience filled the hall, and in expression of their appreciation gave each number the heartiest applause. The first part of the program was rendered by the Bradley Symphony Orchestra, and consisted of four numbers—March Militaire, op. 51, Schubert; Symphony No. II, G Major, Haydn; Brahms' Hungarian Dance No. 5, and Strauss' Persian March. Mr. Harold Plowe is the director of the Orchestra.

The second half of the program—the singing of the beautiful cantata, "The Rose Maiden," by Cowen—was given by the Bradley Chorus, under the direction of Dr. Wyckoff, assisted by a quartet of Chicago's best singers—Mrs. Alton L. Smith, soprano; Miss Eolia Carpenter, alto; Mr. W. F. Hypes, tenor; and Mr. C. P. Champlin, bass. The accompanists were Miss Tina Haines, of Chicago, for the solo parts, and Miss Mildred Faville on the piano and Mr. John Wabeke on the pipe organ for the chorus. There are upwards of sixty voices in the chorus, and the singing at this concert reflected great credit on their ability and on Dr. Wyckoff's efficient leadership. The progress made by the chorus, while in a measure expected, surprised even those who keep in closest touch with the musical work of the Institute, and musical experts in the city say that no such chorus work has been heard in Peoria for some considerable time.

Entertained at Luncheon

THE Institute entertained the members of the Iowa State base ball team together with the members of the Institute team, at a luncheon served in the domestic economy lecture room by the senior class in cooking. The luncheon was the most successful served during the year, and was greatly enjoyed by the members of both teams. As it was Iowa's first appearance at Bradley, it gave them a good opportunity to become acquainted with the Institute and a number of the Institute people. Immediately after luncheon the Iowan's were shown through the buildings. Those present at the luncheon were McCutcheon, Lowry, Storey, Warner, Struble, Yates, Reynolds, Parsons, Davis and Moss, from Iowa State; Brown, Fuller, Porter, McClyment, Page, Schaefer, Lackersteen, Kilver, Lucius, Stock. Messrs. Sisson, Crawshaw and Leffingwell represented the athletic board.

Will Confer Degrees

Bradley Institute is right abreast of the new movement to confer the degree of associate to graduates. The class which will leave Bradley Hall this spring will therefore get degrees. The student will graduate as an associate in art, science or literature, depending upon the group which he has elected previously.

New Catalogue

The catalogue for 1900-'01 is out and has been freely distributed the past two weeks. The catalogue is the same as former ones in general make-up though some changes may be noticed in the curriculum.

Saved by Miller

The above headline recently graced the base ball columns of several of Chicago's dailies and the following dispatch explains in full the cause for it:

CHAMPAIGN, ILL., May 23.—Miller, the freshman pitcher, pulled an apparently lost game out of the fire today for the Illini, giving them the third successive victory over the Maroons (University of Chicago,) by the score of 9 to 5. Falkenberg, who proved so effective against the Maroons in the two former games, was landed on hard for four innings, when he was replaced by Miller, who made his initial appearance in the college game. At that stage of the game the score was 4 to 1 in the Maroons' favor and two men were on bases The man who resembles Guy Miller of Michigan fame arose to the occasion and only allowed four scratch hits throughout the remainder of the game and Illinois won out 9 to 5.

All Bradley rejoice at Fred Miller's success and only hope that it may continue. Miller pitched Bradley to victory on numerous occasions and now seems in a fair way to assume a like honor for the University of Illinois.

Convocation

Everyone is looking forward to convocation. The full program for the occasion is not ready, but it can be taken for granted that Bradley will have impressive exercises. Chancellor Chaplin, of Washington University, St. Louis, will give the address on the evening of June 22d. On Thursday evening, June 21st, will occur the spring contest in declamation. Medals will be awarded.

Fudge Frolics

Once again has the spacious kitchen been a solace in the time of storm. The storm which interrupted the Knox game caused all to seek protection in the building. Once again was the kitchen a scene of fudges and merriment. The piano was moved to the lecture room where dancing was engaged in by the fun seekers.

Brown's Dates

Ted Brown made the dates for the base ball nine according to a system The games away from home were all t› be early in the season when the weather man was in danger of turning on the wrong spigot and turning on a snow storm when fine weather was wanted. If the crowd was poor on account of bad weather it wouldn't be Bradley's funeral, for we would be playing on a guarantee.

The games at home were to be played later when the weather would be settled and there would be big crowds and bushels of money. When Manager Brown had gotten the dates all made he rubbed his hands gleefully and congratulated himself on his luck. But alas for the hopes of man. Every one knows what nice weather the boys had away from home and how it rained pitch forks and handles when the team was playing on home grounds. But let us draw the mantle of charity and forgetfulness over the ill luck of Manager Brown and trust that next time he will let the weather man into his plans.

Good Work for Bradley

The value of the lectures given by Mrs. Kedzie as an advertisement for Bradley Institute, is demonstrated by the recent visit of the Mattoon delegation. It will be no surprise to see the lectures bear still more fruit in the new students from the places where she has lectured.

We Must Read

Summer day, shady nook, girl in hammock, reading book; and she will be reading one of the forty books on the list as prepared by the powers of Bradley. A course of reading for the summer has been outlined, and students will be expected to wade through the books and know something about them in the fall. There will be special lists for the different divisions and classes of students.

The Eureka Kindergarten

The Eureka Kindergarten, formerly known as Eureka College, has cancelled its return game with Bradley. The reason given is that Bradley gave her unfair treatment when the base ball nine of the school played in Eureka recently. We do not see how the base ball nine and their friends could have had the heart to take the advantage of two or three hundred unsophisticated college boys on their own campus. They should have realized that the embryonic (?) ministers are green and callow. The aroma of the meadow has not yet left their clothes and they are as putty in the hands of the confidence men, who compose the Bradley base ball nine. It was all wrong for Bradley to take advantage of Eureka college, especially on the latter's grounds, and we do not blame Eureka's manager for writing over to cancel the return game, which was to have been played on Bradley campus. This is the second year Bradley has misused the Eureka Kindergarteners, yet we presume that like Billy Mason's hen, they will run up next year for an other fire cracker.

Summer Plans

Dr. Burgess has laid his plans for the summer vacation. He will instruct at the University of Chicago during the vacation. He will handle two courses, one in Plato and one in Odyssey, during the first six weeks. In July he will read a paper before the American Philogical Society at Madison, Wis.

A Successful Trip

The most successful of excursions taken by the Engineering Club was the one taken to the Peoria water works and University of Illinois dynamotor car. Prof. Breckenridge and a number of the senior mechanical engineers of the University were making tests at the water works and invited the club and their friends to view the car About fifty made the excursion and were well pleased at the manner in which all was explained to them.

Championship Retained

Though there is no regular championship race, or even a pennant awarded, still the Institute team would receive it if given for the team having the best record. This year no one can lay claim to such a title except the Maroons, as they have a clean record. The colleges defeated have been Lincoln, Knox, Monmouth, Wesleyan, Eureka and Cornell.

THERE have been rumors about that foot ball at the Institute was to be abolished. The students, generally, have been surprised at the thought of it, as nine-tenths of the students, if not nearly every one, wish and hope for a team that will be a credit to the school. Football can and should be handled differently than it was last fall, and with the new material in school this fall, a team could be gotten out that will, with the smaller teams, make a good showing. There is only one school in these parts that has abolished foot ball, and it also dropped practically out of the college world. It now has no track team, base ball team or any school life. The question will be considered fairly by the board of trustees.

MISS BARTLETT recently spoke before the Womens' Teachers club of Peoria. She described Cambridge as an example of the old English University. The talk was greatly appreciated. Prof. Hood added greatly to the lecture by illustrating it with the stereopticon.

GEO. FULLER, who attended Bradley until recently, while watching the track team practice on the afternoon of May 1st, was accidentally struck by the hammer. He was removed to his home, 801 Bluff street, in the ambulance, but soon recovered. It was only by chance that the accident was not more serious.

ON THE evening of May 4th a regular meeting of the History Club was held at the home of Prof. Garner. The attendance and interest was good. The following program was carried out: Paper on "Tuskegee Institute," Mr. Sisson; Paper on "Early Growth of Illinois," Mr. Beimfohr; Discussion of the Puerto Rican Tariff Bill, Mr. Garner.

ON ACCOUNT of lack of space in the last issue an extended account of the liquid air lecture was crowded out. We take this opportunity of mentioning the fact, as the lecture, given by Prof. Freer of the University of Michigan on the evening of April 20th, was one of the most successful undertakings of the Institute during the year. Mr. Crawshaw had charge of the lecture and through his management a neat sum was added to the athletic fund.

The ladies were the guests of Mrs. Starbuck, wife of the general superintendent of the P. D. & E., and came to Peoria in Mr. Starbuck's special car, the "Decatur." The party also visited the Woman's Club.

BROOKS and Falkin attended the commencement exercises at San Jose, Ill., the 18th.

B. W. POST visited us May 8th. He is now in the jewelry business at Washburn, Illinois.

MCCOSH and Peetz finished their Horological and optical course and have returned to their homes.

"EVERY cloud has a silver lining." Littlefield and Kitterman spent a week in Jacksonville sometime ago.

WILLIE MEYER says he is not leaving school to get married, but that he is going home to work for his father.

HANEY accidentally blew some burning alcohol in his face. It was the cause of a trip home for a few weeks. He is now back, as inquisitive as ever.

WILL DECKER, a former Horological student, who has worked for Mr. Manifold for the past eight months, is now working for O. Pitkin of Princeton, Ill.

SOME of the visitors of the Peoria County Teachers Institute received a queer idea of the construction of a watch and the way they were cleaned.

MISS MANIFOLD having completed her course of Engraving, has returned home to Beloit, Kans. She leaves a large circle of friends in Peoria, who hate to see her go.

M. RIDEOUT has started in business at Rushford, Minn. He thinks it very queer he didn't get roasted in the last "TECH." If he didn't deserve it he wouldn't get it.

MR. JOHN TATE and Miss Mary Hendricks, both of Knoxville, Ill., were married Sunday May 20th. Mr. Tate has been a student of the Horological department, but has lately been in the employ of J. W. Woelfle of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Tate will make their future home in Peoria.

IT IS certainly a liberal crowd that will go to a ball game and stay on the outside of the fence and root for the visiting team. We are sorry it happened, but that was where we found about one third of the Horological Boys, at the Iowa game.

THE following was recently heard at the Horological:

Mr. W. "Is it so, Miss Manifold, that you are to take up farming?"

Miss M. "Why do you ask me?"

Mr. W. "Because I see that you have a 'Little-field' to begin on."

RAY FRIEDBERGER, a former horological student, who built a large escapement while here has been recently receiving considerable prominence through it. The escapement received a mark of distinction at the American Horological Society's Exhibit at Chicago last October, and has been attracting much interest wherever shown. It was one of the finest ever made at the Horological.

THE "Gold Bricks" who have oiled their files since the last issue are: Chas. A. Schmidt, Joliet, Ill., C. W. Schultz, Oskaloosa, Iowa, David A. Martin, Kahoka, Mo., Bert Fashburg, St. Joe, Mo., Fred Nimmerfall, Nashville, Tenn., F. W. Zimmerman. Potsdam, Minn., Jno. F. Dooley, Sweet Springs, West Va., Geo. W. Willie, Grand Haven, Mich., F. G. Meyers, Iowa City, Iowa.

Athletics

Bradley 19, Monmouth College 7

Bradley won one of the easiest games of the season from Monmouth College on Bradley campus, May 4th, by the one-sided score of 19 to 7. Outside of the first inning, when Bradley had their usual bad inning, the visiting collegians were never once in it. Bradley succeeded in collecting seventeen hits, driving Firovod out of the box in the third and took kindly to Wallace's benders the rest of the time. Monmouth put up a poor fielding game and made many errors. Lackersteen pitched for Bradley, up to the seventh, and outside of the first pitched gilt-edge ball. Porter went into the box in the seventh and Monmouth failed to solve his delivery. Bradley fielded in good form, the infield doing good work throughout, while the outfield accepted everything that came their way. Brown played his old style game, accepting seven out of eight chances, while Kilver put up a fine game in center. The result of the game shows that Bradley is far ahead of Monmouth in the base ball line, having won the four games played the last two years. The tabulated score follows:

Defeated by Iowa State

On a field of mud and water, May 8, the University of Iowa defeated the Maroons by the score of 10 to 2. The rain fell up to time for calling the game, and both teams were badly handicapped by the muddy field. Still they put up a very fair fielding game, though Bradley's errors were all costly.

The Maroons can lay their cause for defeat to Reynolds, the twirler for the Iowans, being unable to solve his delivery until the last, when it was too late. Reynolds had wonderful speed, good curves, and above all, most excellent control. Nine of the Maroons struck in vain at his twirling, and then calmly resumed their seats. Porter occupied the box for Bradley up to the seventh, and considering the heavy hitting team, did good work. Lackersteen pitched the last inning, and being in good form, held the Iowans safe.

Bradley's scoring was as follows: In the third, Page singled and stole second. Schaefer flew out, advancing Page to third, from whence he scored on Lackersteen's single. With the score 10 to 1 against them, Bradley came to bat in the last half of the seventh, and then made a strong effort to enlarge their score column. Kilver flew out to left, Lucius singled to center, Brown struck out. Fuller singled and Lucius advanced to third, scoring later on Porter's hit. McClyment got a pass and the bases were full. Page followed with a hit to Reynolds, which was easily fielded. The game was over, and Bradley's chances gone. The game was featureless, except for Reynolds' pitching and Yates' home run over the left field fence. Score follows:

Bradley vs. Wesleyan

On Bradley campus, May 12th, the Maroons secured revenge for the foot ball team by defeating Wesleyan University by the one-sided score of 17-5. A close, hard-fought game was expected, and our team was in shape to play their best. The Maroons won by good use of the stick, and they also took advantage of Franklin's inability to locate the plate. When once on the bases they nearly always managed to reach home by careful yet daring base running. Lackersteen was in the box and only allowed five hits. Bradley had their usual bad inning, and by two passes to first, two errors and two hits Wesleyan scored four times in the second. After that they only managed to cross the plate once. Schwartz, in center for Wesleyan, played the best game of the visitors. For Bradley, no one distinguished himself, though each player played the kind of ball that wins. By their all-around playing, Bradley outclassed Wesleyan. The following tabulated score tells the story:

Bradley 4. Eureka College 2.

May 14 the Maroons journeyed over to the town of Eureka and returned with another victory, thus clinching their claim for the championship, by having defeated every college in central Illinois, making any pretensions along the base ball line. The game was hard fought from start to finish, and the close score of 4 to 2 shows that both pitchers were doing most excellent work, as the fielding was difficult, the game being played on a field of mud.

Eureka put up a much better game than was anticipated, and they repeatedly played in good luck. Davenport, for Eureka, pitched a wonderful game, having all the good qualities of a pitcher. and he succeeded in making twelve of the Maroons bow to him. Hamilton in left made several good catches, and in the last inning made a sensational catch of Kilver's long hit which was labeled for a home run. Porter occupied the box for

Bradley and pitched a good game, keeping the hits scattered, except in the fifth, and scoring a number of strike-outs. The scoring began in the second when McClyment hit to left and advanced to second on Page's out at first. Schaefer drew a base and McClyment scored on Lackersteen's single. Bradley scored twice in the fifth on hits by Kilver, Brown and Fuller, Kilver and Brown scoring. Eureka did their scoring in the fifth on hits by Kinney, Hieronymous, Springer and McClaren. Bradley scored another in the ninth on hits by Lucius and Fuller. The game was featureless except for the good fielding of both teams on the muddy field, the number of errors being very small. The line up was as follows:

BRADLEY.		EUREKA.
Brown	short stop	Kinney
Porter	pitcher	Davenport
McClyment	second base	Leonard

Breadley vs. T. P. & W.

The game in which the most local interest centered, namely between the Bradley and T. P. & W. team, resulted in a very much one sided victory for the Maroons. The T. P. & W's, a team which has claimed superiority over all of the city teams, was taken on for the open date May 26th. The game early began to be a farce as the visitors were utterly unable to play the game in the same class as the Maroons. In spite of the one sided score 25 to 0, there were several redeeming features so that the price of admission was not entirely given away. For Bradley, Porter only allowed three hits and the team throughout played the fastest game of the season. When once on the bases they were hard to stop, as a total of 17 stolen bases tells the tale. Twenty hits were secured off of Roszell. Thompsons playing for the T. P. & W's was the feature of the game.

Dual Meet

Bradley's first dual meet in track athletics will be had with the Peoria High School at Lake View, June 16th. There will be fourteen events and ribbons will be given for first and second places, individual medal will be given to one winning most points, while a pennant will be given school winning the meet. The Institute boys do not expect too much in this meet as it is their first contest, while the High School team has long been in training and has done considerable work along this line this year. Mr. Benezet has charge of the High School team.

Letter From Hitch

MANSFIELD, O.

EDITOR TECH:—Maybe I can furnish you with a little information for the TECH, if you choose to use it. Louis Ott, whom you will remember as a student at the Horological, has purchased a jewelry store in Mansfield, and has for his watchmaker Stout, another old student.

I hope the track team will go on as well as possible. Sorry I had to leave it in such a poor condition. Give my regards to all the boys I know. The ball team is certainly doing swell. Wish I was there to root. Good bye,

C. B. HITCHCOCK.

First Annual Field Day

The much looked for field day was held on Bradley campus on the afternoon of May 16th. It was an impromptu affair. The participants in the various events showed lack of form, track suits were conspicuous by their absence, still the meet was a great success. It was just what was needed to stir up enthusiasm along the line of track athletics, and as a result a meet has been arranged with the High School for June 16th to be held at Lake View. That the Institute has an abundance of promising material was shown, as the participants had no training whatsoever, still some fair marks were reached. The pennant awarded to the division capturing the most points went to the higher academy, with a total of 30 points. The summary of events follows:

Fifty-yard Dash—Kilver, L. A., first; McClyment, C., second; Willis Fuller, H. A., third. Time, 5 3-5 seconds.

Two seems to be our limit with Iowa State.

PROF. HOOD has pictures of the team for sale at Horology Hall.

FRED BOURLAND has proven himself a hustler, and also a friend of the rooters, by his score cards.

THE bleachers now present a very good appearance. The light yellow coat of paint helps them greatly.

MUCH of our rooting has been done by means of the feet. It seems as if it is anything to make a noise.

THE LEAGUE games conflicted with both the Monmouth and Iowa State games. Still they seemed to have no effect on the attendance.

MANAGER BROWN was trying to fill the Lombard date with Washington University of St. Louis. As their trip could not be arranged the date could not be made.

SCHAEFER did not wear his orange and black sweater at Eureka. All can tell that Schaefer has played there before and wisely decided to wear nothing too "loud."

YATES' home run in the Iowa game was the longest hit ever made on the grounds.

MONMOUTH had a number of sympathizers on the bleachers. A crowd of Peoria girls, with several Monmouth friends, were there, but had no interest in the game after the first inning.

THE Cornellian, in commenting on the Cornell-Bradley game, made the statement that the Bradley team was the heaviest hitting aggregation that had visited Cornell in recent years. Eighteen hits, three home runs, three three-base hits and three two-base hits off of their crack pitcher certainly bears them out in their statement.

RAIN has interfered with our base ball schedule more this year than ever. Three games, all of which would have been victories, had to be declared off. The games were as follows:

Eureka at Eureka, April 21st; Knox College at Peoria, May 17th; Lincoln University at Lincoln, May 19th.

The Knox team came, but the game had to be stopped before playing had been on two minutes. Knox was on a trip and while out three days did not play a game.
